Wally Breauz, of the White Cypress Community's Gumbo Festival Committee, Monday said the team's action represents an evolution of the event from church grounds and the committee members "are really upset about the parish order."

Wally reported, "The reasons leading to this resolution are several. The primary reason is that the national team feels that the festival has grown too large for our small community to adequately and safely handle."

"The gumbo festival attracts people from several of the surrounding states. Because of the huge crowds and

MAJOR WOODS FIRE—Mrs. Henry Taylor of New Orleans is in tears Tuesday as she and her husband survey rubble which was their family's second home on BaySide Drive in BaySide Park. The mobile home, which the Taylors hoped to soon make their permanent residence, was destroyed by a blaze Tuesday afternoon which engulfed the life officials on the scene as a major woods fire. Although the Taylor home was lost, firefighters managed to save the homes of neighbors Paul Jacobson, left, and John Jacobson, right, as well as three other residences in the path of flames whipped by brisk north winds. Regarding the term "dilling morals and values" of those attending the festival, Breaux said, "I never could get that straight what they were talking about."

"We draw people from different states but these people aren't thugs or dope addicts. If it's the boys on motorcycles they're thinking of, the majority of them are from this county and are basically good people," Breaux

Construction on a $50-million marina and condominium townhouse complex on Jourdan River and partially in Bay St. Louis city limits is expected to begin within the next two weeks.

Project owners, Charles Lambert of Charles Land Company, Inc. of Hattiesburg, La., and Don Hessemer of New Orleans, both stated work will begin as soon as the United States Corps of Engineers issues the final construction permit allowing the marina to be dug.

Lambert met with Bay St. Louis City Councilmen, members of the Hancock County Planning and Zoning Board, and county supervisors last week during a meeting scheduled by Bay officials. Although Lambert stated he had no objections to the press being present at the meeting, neither the public or media were informed of the meeting or invited to attend.

In reference to the final construction permit, Hessemer said, "We understand it is just a matter of having the final type up on the official form."

The project has already received the approval of other state and federal agencies, including the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife National Marine Fisheries, Mississippi Bureau of Marine Resources, the Mississippi

The Fireman's Doll and Toy distribution will resume on Christmas Eve, according to Bay Fire Chief Andrew D'Amico.

Toys were distributed to over 4000 Hanock children in 1990 by Fireman's Doll and Toy Committee members.

The Hanock County Doll and Toy Fund is a agency of the Hanock County Board of Commissioners.

Capital headquarters for the Dolls are toys and persons with toys. The children have outgrown are welcome according to Leana.

"The chief said, 'We can always have more toys as we have so many children' and told them the first children taking them home to their families," she said. "I said, 'I am glad you are happy'."

Leana said she never had a doll.

Health center adds two staff members

CHARLES RODGERS, Gulf Coast Mental Health Center at 674 Old Pascagoula in Gulfport, has added two members to its staff.

Thomas P. O'Brien, PhD, is a clinical psychologist, originally from Illinois, who obtained his doctoral degree from Memphis State University in Tennessee.

He interned at University Medical Center in Jackson and gained post-doctoral experience at The University of Nebraska Medical Center, Meyer, CHU, and the Rehabilitation Institute and the Department of Psychiatry.

O'Brien's areas of specialty are behavior therapy and parent training. He will be working in our children and youth services program.

Charles (Chuck) Rodgers carried a master's degree in allied health services from the University of South Florida in Jacksonville. His position at the center is director of the Alcohol Abuse House.

Plans for a Gulf Coast facility are being formulated with a completion date set for Jan. 1982, Stewart reports.

Rodgers' experience is in health administration with the U.S. Air Force. His specialty is rehabilitation facility administration.

Gulf Coast Mental Health Center and Region XIII are indeed fortunate to have the services and expertise of these two new staff members," Stewart says.

"The center has also arranged new hours for our Biloxi satellite office located in the Vieux Marche Mall in Biloxi from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Thursdays and Fridays. The office will be staffed by Jo Ann Colquhoun, PhD and Dean Laddner, M.S.," he explained.

BAND FUND-RAISER—Selling decorative candles Tuesday night to help raise funds for the Bay Sealer High School Tiger Frolic Dinner to participate in the National Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D.C. this spring are Timmy Adams, left, band vice president, and Les Parker, drum major, both of Bay St. Louis. All 54 band members sold candles door-to-door in uniform throughout Waveland, Diamondhead and Bay St. Louis from 5 p.m. until 8 p.m. that day. The band and its booster club, the Band Aides, are attempting to raise some $10,000 for the band's trip and lodging associated with the national band competition event in which Bay High will represent the State of Mississippi. ## Obituaries

MRS. AMELIA CAZAUBON
Mrs. Amelia Stora Cazaubon, 79, St. Joseph Street, Waveland, died Sunday in Bay St. Louis.

A native of New Orleans, Mrs. Cazaubon was a member of St. Clare Catholic Church, Waveland. She was preceded in death by her husband, Alfred Earl Cazaubon.

Visitation was Monday from 7 to 10 p.m. at Edmond Fahey Funeral Home, Bay St. Louis. A Rosary was recited at 8 p.m.

Mass was celebrated at 10 a.m. Tuesday in St. Clare Catholic Church, Waveland. Graveside services were held at 1 p.m. Tuesday in Greenwood Cemetery, New Orleans.

EDWIN RAY CORLEY
A memorial service was conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday at St. Paul Catholic Church in Pass Christian for author, novelist Edwin Ray Corley who died Saturday, Nov. 7, 1981, in Gulfport Memorial Hospital.

Riemann Funeral Home in Gulfport was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Corley was a resident of 431 E. Second St., Pass Christian, and a native of Bayonne, N.J. He had been a resident of the Mississippi Gulf Coast since 1974.

He served in the U.S. Army Air Corps and in the Air Force in Korea, where he also served as a war correspondent and wrote for the Stars and Stripes.

His best-selling novel, "Siege," was translated into nine languages. "Siege" was followed by "The Jesus Factor," another worldwide best seller.

Before writing "Siege," Mr. Corley was publisher of Off Broadway Magazine.

He was an advertising copy writer and served as a Compton Agency vice president in New York from 1968 until 1969 when he became vice president of Dancer-Fitzgerald-Sample. Advertising. He was a member of the Author's Guild.

Mr. Corley wrote under several pen names, including David Harper, William Judson and Patrick Buchanan. His book, "Hijacked," written under the name David Harper, was made into the movie "Skyjacked," which starred Charlton Heston.

He also wrote the "Good Books" review column, which appeared regularly in the Sunday edition of The Sun and the Daily Herald.

At the time of his death, Mr. Corley was working on "The Eye of the Devil," a novel about Hurricane Camille.

His other novels include "Farewell, My Slightly Tarnished Hero," "Acapulco Gold," "Shadows," "Sargasso," "Cold River," "Air Force One," "The Genesis Rock" and most recently, "Long Shots."

Mr. Corley's wife, Betty Zekauskas Corley, died several months ago.

Survivors include two sons, Richard Corley and Eugene Corley, both students at St. Stanislaus High School in Bay St. Louis, and a daughter, Miss Elizabeth Corley, all of Pass Christian, and a brother, Richard Corley, of Fruitville, Ala.

The family requests memorial contributions be made to the St. Stanislaus Scholarship Fund in Bay St. Louis.

MRS. ANNIE FRAZIER
Mrs. Annie White Frazier, 94, a long-time resident of the Turkey Creek Community, Gulfport, died Sunday morning, Nov. 8, 1981, in Memorial Hospital at Gulfport.

Mrs. Frazier, a resident of Rt. 1, Box

90, was a native of Bay St. Louis. She was a self-employed grocery store operator in Turkey Creek for many years and was a member of St. Theresa Catholic Church of Gulfport.

She is survived by her husband, Robert J. Frazier, Gulfport; two foster sons, John S. White Sr., Pass Christian, and Anselm White, Chicago; 12 grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

A wake was held Tuesday at 8 p.m. with visitation following to 10 p.m. in St. Theresa Catholic Church.

A funeral Mass was celebrated Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the church followed by burial in the Turkey Creek Community Cemetery.

J. T. Hall Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

ALBERT PETERMAN
Albert Peterman, 75, of Oak Street, Clermont Harbor, died Sunday, Nov. 8, 1981, in Bay St. Louis.

The body was sent from Edmond Fahey Funeral Home, Bay St. Louis, to Lamana-Panno-Fallo Funeral Home in New Orleans for services and burial.

GUSSE SHELTON
The funeral for Gusse Shelton, 89, of Pearlington, originally set for Tuesday, will be held Friday.

Visitation will be Friday from 6 p.m. until 7 p.m. at St. Mark's AME Church in Waveland.

The body will be taken from St. Mark's to Big Mt. Zion AME Church in Pearlington for services at 8 p.m.

Burial will be at 10 a.m. Saturday at Lindsey's Cemetery in Pearlington.

Harrison Humane Society seeks executive director

The Harrison County Humane Society Board of Directors at its October meeting, accepted the resignation of the society's executive director, Sandra Robinson.

Mrs. Robinson, who also functioned as the society's executive director, resigned because of ill health.

The board is currently reviewing applications for a new executive director.

Mrs. Jan Carruthers, of the board, said Tuesday, "We are looking for a person who is over-seeing the society's office operations and who is a good person to handle the day-to-day operations of the society."

Also at the Oct. 24 meeting, the board decided to conduct an open house and to hold a society report.

The open house will be held at the society's headquarters, 2200 Washington Ave., in Gulfport Sunday, Nov. 15, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Jack Thompson said the board will meet on Nov. 22 to select a new executive director.

Money Talk

By Norine Barnes

Most of us women don't like to think about getting older. But that's not a good reason to put off planning for retirement. A woman should have some degree of financial independence during her later years.

And to do that, it's important for her to understand how to manage her money now for peace of mind and greater security in the future. These facts tell why:

Did you know that women live about eight years longer than men? Once a woman reaches the age of 65, she can — if she's average — look forward to living about 17 more years. That's a long time money of many people and on retirement pay.

Did you know that more women are unmarried these days? Financial day-to-day planning is essential for her to make financial plans for retirement. These days, a Social Security payment to a woman averages about $200 monthly. Think about it. In this time of inflation, what expenses would that amount cover?

How should a woman begin now to make financial plans? There are many choices. For starters, she could start a long-range financial program using investments that are designed to produce income in the future. Maybe some stocks, bonds or mutual funds.

Did you know that more women are unmarried these days? Financial day-to-day planning is essential for her to make financial plans for retirement. These days, a Social Security payment to a woman averages about $200 monthly. Think about it. In this time of inflation, what expenses would that amount cover?

It's a fact that one out of every four widows is under the age of 65. A husband's term retirement plan let you death a family's income. Including all benefits, it's generally reduced by 40 percent. That's even including the working income of the widow.

Can a woman count on a pension from her own firm if security? That answer is easy: she works? Not really. There is no time like the present, whether you're a man or a woman, a stock broker, a mutual fund representative, an insurance agent or financial planner can help you put your plans into action.

Bits 'n pieces

Many folks are very proud of their children and grandchildren and think they are very beautiful.

The Gulfview Parent-Teachers Club has rescheduled its baby beauty contest for Dec. 6 at 8 p.m.

We are told by Claudia Singleton, PTC president, that there will be three categories for boys and girls.

Now the reason for the PTC holding this baby contest is to raise funds to go toward air conditioning the classrooms at Gulfview.

Members of the club are out working very hard trying various events to help raise the necessary funds for the air conditioning units as they already have enough for the wiring.

If you think your child is the most beautiful and are interested in the baby beauty contest, call Ms. Singleton at 467-7541.

Football fans of the area should try and see the annual Mullet Bowl tonight at Bay High Tiger stadium.

The annual event sponsored by the Bay High Tiger Booster Club will have Pass Christian vying with Vancleave's Junior High with kick-off at 7:30 p.m.

The crowing of the queen will precede the game at 7 p.m. According to Wilmer Seymour, BHS athletic director, the game should be a good one and is one of the few junior high bowl games in the State.

So football fans, the season is over, but you have an opportunity of seeing some good action tonight (Thursday) at the Tiger stadium.

Soccer, a new sport in the area for the past few years seems to be really catching the fancy of many young folks.

Many of our youth are involved with the new sport and are really enjoying themselves on Saturdays.

Look out football, you may have some competition.

Harrison Humane Society invites

Hancock friends to open house

Nov. 10, 1981
Editor, Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,
Our friends in Hancock County are cordially invited to attend an open house at the Harrison County Humane Society, 6500 Washington Avenue, Gulfport Sunday between 2 and 5 p.m.

Come out and meet members of the board of directors of the society and tour the facilities.

There will be refreshments. You might want to adopt one of our special pets at the shelter or you might want to purchase a new collar, sweater or toy for your family pet at our Pet Boutique.

We will also be soliciting members for our women's auxiliary. If you would like to join our auxiliary all you have to do is let us know.

We hope to see you at the open house. The Harrison County Humane Society, P.O. Box 100, Gulfport, MS 39201.

Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT

One of the most fundamental rights guaranteed by our Constitution is the right to vote.

It is very strongly that this Constitutional prerogative should be protected by federal law for all Americans—everywhere in our country—not just primarily for those living in the South.

For this reason, I have introduced legislation to amend the 1965 Voting Rights Act to make it applicable nationwide.

My bill is pending in the Senate Judiciary Committee, and when the committee begins hearings early next year, I plan to present testimony on behalf of my proposal. From time to time, I intend to discuss on the floor of the Senate the importance of making the changes I am proposing for the Voting Rights Act.

At present, this section of the Voting Rights Act covers only nine Southern States and portions of 15 others.

The other 27 states are not covered by the requirement in the law to obtain clearance from the Department of Justice for any changes in election or voting laws.

I think this is unjust and is simply not appropriate under our Constitution. Every citizen, in every precinct, in every State, ought to have the full protection of the Voting Rights Act.

There are those who say that any effort to amend or improve the Voting Rights Act is an effort to entrench it, to weaken enforcement, and to acknowledge the rights of citizens to register and vote.

BE A GOOD CITIZEN

A person is guilty of violating a city ordinance or law if he or she refuses to pay a fine or penalty, or if he or she refuses to pay a fine or penalty in any way within the city limits. Does your police department enforce the law? Take a look around and judge for yourself.

HANCOCK COUNTY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

CLEAN UP AND BEAUTIFICATION COMMITTEE

This is certainly the case with my amendment. In fact, the idea for my proposal originated from some of the most prominent legal scholars in the country, including Judge William C. Keady of Greenville, S.C., and Judge George O. Cochran, who is not kin to me, a member of the law school faculty at the University of Mississippi.

Their research and opinions on this issue are included in a report titled "The Voting Rights Act: A Time for Revision."

The bill would provide for a speedy process in federal district courts around the country for reviewing all changes in laws that affect voting rights.

These proceedings would be given priority settings, with appropriate notice given to the citizens and all interested parties in local election officials.

The Department of Justice would also be given notice and have the right to participate in the clearance process.

The purpose of the legislation is to make certain that all citizens have the right to vote and to ensure that the law is enforced.

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

News

Electoral reform, which would allow voters to elect their representatives by ballot, is being studied by the Governor's Office of Criminal Justice Planning (GOCJP), a division of the Governor's Office of Federal State Programs.

According to newly appointed GOCJP director Roy Thigpen, personnel from the two programs are able to provide better services to Mississippians as a result of the consolidation.

The relationship between criminal justice grant administration and highway safety grant administration allows for some interchange between staff members and serves as an asset for both agencies, said Thigpen.

The changes have also allowed us to expand in other areas of law enforcement. GOCJP is continuing to aid in the improvement of the state's criminal justice system through planning, evaluation and audit.

As a new division of the criminal justice agency, the highway safety program is continuing to work toward reducing property damage, accidents and deaths on all state roads and highways in Mississippi.

Both programs are continuing to work toward the same goal: to have been set in the past, and to provide about what we know we can do.

Thigpen said Thigpen, former director of the Governor's Highway Safety Program, said plans are currently being made by GOCJP for an annual and triennial safety conference which will address such issues as local, state and federal law enforcement, courts and behavior.

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics

By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

I've been thinking about getting my ads printed in a 4-page tab and sending them out myself. I also thought I might get one or two others to go along with me to share the cost of postage, but I don't know how much to charge them. Should I Pursue This?

Dear SIFT: My advice would be to give up the whole scheme.

Chances are you and your buddies can get better coverage at less cost per prospect with a local newspaper.

Beginning Nov. 1, national postage, which you describe, went up. Also, the "break point" (waiting place after which higher per cent rates are applied) went down.

Let's suppose you could get your ads printed in a 4-page tab and send them out yourself. I don't know how much to charge them. Should I Pursue This?

coverage is essentially nonstop leafing. Let's suppose you could get your ads printed in a 4-page tab and send them out yourself. I don't know how much to charge them. Should I Pursue This?

So, not only will your cost of printing and distribution be less, but the odds of your ads getting into the homes will be increased if the material is included in the newspaper.

Let's suppose you could get your ads printed in a 4-page tab and send them out yourself. I don't know how much to charge them. Should I Pursue This?

Waveland pier opening date still not decided

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Leaders of the City of Waveland and American Legion Post No. 77 have still not set an opening date for the restored Gayfield Lusher Memorial Pier due to several apparent incomplete work items found by legion members.
City and legion officials several months ago agreed to jointly fund the $250,000 pier restoration project awarded to Southland Enterprises, Inc. of Gulfport.
When the project is accepted by the city, the pier will be opened to the public as a pedestrian pier for fishing with vehicle parking available at the legion home near Coleman Avenue.
Mayor John Longo of Waveland Monday said several city aldermen recently met with legion leaders to discuss the joint project.

He said the legion leaders cited several large pieces of concrete which should have been crumbled, a discarded portion of the pier's sign which had not been moved away from the work site, and several jagged pieces of steel which were not cut away from concrete boulders.
"These minor adjustments will be taken care of soon," the mayor stated.

"In two or three days I think these adjustments will be made and all parties will be satisfied. But we don't intend to pay the contractor until these items are corrected," Longo explained.
The pier entrance is located at the corner of Terrace Avenue and Beach Boulevard.

Plants move into house may be insect infested

When moving into a new home, it is important to inspect plants for insects before bringing them into the house. Several common pests may attack plants inside the home. These include aphids, scale, mealy bugs and spider mites. Sanitation plays an important part in controlling house plant pests. A hose sprayer at the kitchen sink may control indoor infestations of aphids and spider mites. Use lukewarm water. Cleaning the leaves with a moist sponge also will aid in control.
A second cleaning or washing will be necessary in

Clermont citizens unite to protest utility rate hike

By BRENT MACKEY
The Clermont Harbor Civic Association will conduct a meeting Nov. 21 at 7:30 p.m. in St. Ann's Church Hall to discuss requested water utility rate increases proposed for that area.
In addition, Mary Caillier, association president, said a bus has been chartered to transport members of the community to a public hearing on the matter scheduled by the Mississippi Public Service Commission Nov. 24 in Jackson.

Caillier said tickets for the bus trip will cost $15 per person. She requested all people interested in attending the hearing contact her about tickets before Nov. 16 by calling 467-7903 between 12 and 3 p.m. or 6 and 8 p.m.
Johnson Utility Company recently purchased the water system. At the same time the transfer of title was requested, the company asked the commission to grant a rate increase from $40 per year to $12 per month.

The PSC approved the rate but only approved a rate increase of $5.50 per month.

The commission also did not approve installation of some water meters which the company proposed to be connected to the system servicing some 300 customers.

Some 60 days after receiving the approved rate increase, the company requested another rate increase to the original request of $12 a month.

Caillier claims the rate increase if approved will put an end to Clermont Harbor.

She said a number of people living in the community have their central home in New Orleans and live in Clermont Harbor only three months during the summer.

"It won't be worth their while to come to Clermont Harbor if they have to pay a $12 utility rate all year round. They can use that money for gas and go some place else," she said.

Currently citizens in the community have already been receiving their $12 a month bill.

Johnson Utility Company posted a bond to cover the cost of a possible refund if the PSC rules against the increase and that ruling is later upheld through court action.

Caillier said many of the people are currently not paying the $12 charge.

"They are going to wait until the end of the month to see what the Public Service Commission rules," she said.

Hancock residents label nuclear forum 'great'

By BRENT MACEY
Hancock County residents who attended a Citizens Against Nuclear Disposal-sponsored forum Sunday in the Biloxi Gulf Coast Coliseum, appeared to share positive feelings about the event.

"It was great," was the first response most residents answered when asked about their reaction to the event.

Five internationally known scientists and several state politicians addressed more than 5,000 concerned Mississippians about the United States Department of Energy's proposal to choose Perry County salt domes as the world's nuclear waste receptacle.

Some 70 Hancock County people were estimated to have attended the gathering.

After responding "it was great," Bay St. Louis resident Peggy Dutton said, "I was astounded. There were so many respectful, good-natured people there," she said.

Dutton also noted the variety in the crowd, as did Victor Frankiewicz, another Bay resident.

"People ranged from mothers who looked like they'd just gotten out of church with their babies to long haired youths," she said.

Frankiewicz stated, "It was really a cross section of the entire Gulf Coast and they were all interested." "I think they really sent a message to Washington and the DOE," he stated.

Frankiewicz said he felt "most proud" after hearing a comment from Dr. Rustum Roy, director of the world's largest research program on radioactive waste and its containment.

Roy told the gathering that he had been to many nuclear discussions around the world, and this is the biggest audience I have ever seen.

Andy LeGarde, a Bay resident who teaches physics and chemistry at Pass Christian High School and brought a number of his students to the forum, said he was "disappointed" the DOE was not represented at the forum.

"I don't feel that was the CAND people's fault. I understand the DOE was invited but would not attend."

"There were questions I would like to have had answered."

During the forum, a number of questions were gathered from the audience. One person asked if drinking water for the Mississippi Coast had its origins near the Perry County Salt domes.

Dr. Johnathan Callender, professor of Geology at the University of New Mexico, and former consultant for the DOE, said he attempted to find that information before coming to the forum.

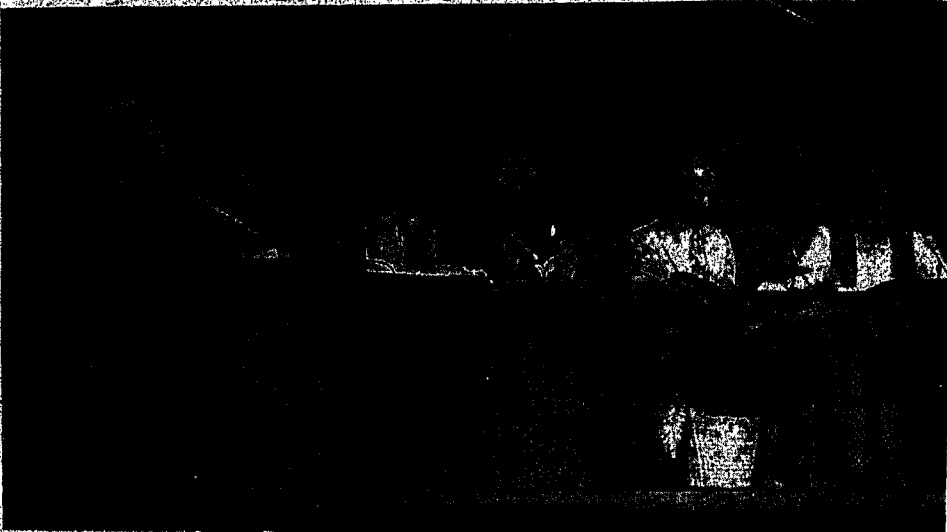

However Callender said he "couldn't get hold of the information."

Several days before the forum, CAND coordinator Stan Flint said he thought much of the information may have been available through Law Engineering and Testing Company in Atlanta, Ga., a company subcontracted to do hydrological testing at the Perry County sites by Batelle Memorial Institute, the main engineering firm contracted by the DOE to find a suitable nuclear dumping receptacle in the country.

However, Batelle would not allow Law Engineers to make those studies available, Flint said.

David Alank, director of government affairs for Law Engineering confirmed those statements last week during a telephone interview.

NUCLEAR FORUM—Speakers and panelists at Sunday's Citizens Against Nuclear Disposal-sponsored forum in the Biloxi Coliseum are from left: Karl Z. Morgan, "The Father of Health Physics" of the Georgia Institute of Technology; Dr. E. Lynn Draper, senior vice president of Engineering and Technical Services for Gulf States Utilities; Bill Allank, Mississippi Attorney General; Fred Millar, representative of the Environmental Policy Center, Washington, D.C.; and Linda Kay, representative from the League of Women Voters. Millar, Kay and Rev. Joseph L. Howze, bishop of Biloxi, not pictured, composed a panel which presented several questions to the speakers. Over 5,000 people attended the forum which was declared a success by CAND spokesmen. (Staff photo by Brent Macey)

Marina.....CONTINUED FROM PAGE 11A

He noted that purchasing a condominium townhouse would not necessitate renting a slip. And he envisioned a number of townhouses being sold to individuals who will not be interested in boating.

He also speculated the marina will be used by traveling yachts, people who may be taking long trips from Texas to the Atlantic or the Caribbean or vice versa.

He stated the marina will be listed on waterway guides as a stopping place for those people.

Telephone and cable television jacks will be installed at each slip and electricity and water will also be available.

The marina itself will include a fuel dock, boat lift, maintenance yard, lounge, ship's store, laundry, rest rooms with showers, pump out facilities, a harbor master's quarters and a restaurant.

Hessemer said he spent much time traveling along the east and west coast viewing other marinas to determine types of problems which can be avoided by careful planning.

Like several other marinas in New England, Bay Cove Marina Village will feature English riding inside the development.

Hessemer's wife, Auriol, is from Sussex England and will instruct English riding, dressage and jumping.

A stable housing six horses has been built on the site and Hessemer said his wife is already instructing.

Until the marina is built the couple plans to live in a building scheduled to be transformed into the restaurant.

They intend to move into one of the condominium townhouses after the marina is built.

Mental health services available

By MARJORIE MUSICK, MSW

Mental Health Associate
Many people in our community like people in other communities, are confused about mental health services and when it is appropriate to use such services.

Although Gulf Coast Mental Health Center does supply therapeutic services to people who have been released from state hospitals, there are many other services available through the center.

Gulf Coast Mental Health Center has the resources to help with marital conflict, child behavior problems, drug and alcohol abuse, family communications, and stress-related disorders.

Through group, individual, and family counseling, our clinical staff can have impact in those issues which interfere with day-to-day functioning. In addition, preventive mental health education is available to groups and organizations.

When is it appropriate to use a mental health center? Many people believe that using the resources of a community mental health center means they are weak, mentally ill, or "bad people."

Mental health intervention is helpful to individuals and families when they need that added boost to resolve a problem.

Therapy often means helping people sort out and identify specific problems and developing a "plan of action" to deal with the problems.

Therapy also means support during a particularly bad time in your life, such as divorce or the death of a loved one. Therapy also means personal growth and change to develop the potential in each person to cope with the ups and downs of life.

Our community mental health center is ready to provide services to help you cope with life's problems.

For more information, call (901) 725-1234 or write to Gulf Coast Mental Health Center, 1000 N. Main St., Biloxi, MS 39260.

Wildcats, Trojans face rematch in state playoffs

Pearl River College will tangle with the Mississippi Delta Trojans in Polarville Saturday night in the first round of post season playoffs for the overall Mississippi Junior College crown.

Pearl River earned the right to host the first round action by winning the south division with a 4-1 conference mark and an overall 7-2-1 ledger. The Trojans wound up in second place in the north with a 5-1 division mark and a 7-3 overall record.

One of Mississippi Delta's losses came at the hands of the Wildcats in the season opener for both teams. Back on Saturday, Sept. 5, the Wildcats eased by the Trojans 27-14 here in the Double-Hollow Stadium.

During the next two months, however, Delta reeled off seven wins out of eight tries, going only to north division champ Holmes, 14-0. The Trojans' other loss came this past week at the hands of Southwest 10-7.

Since the Wildcats opening win over Delta, the Wildcats went on to win three more games, including a 27-14 victory over Delta in the season opener. The Trojans, on the other hand, have lost three of their last four games.

One player who is looking forward to a rematch is Delta's quarterback, James Gray. "It's a big game and I'm really looking forward to it," Gray said. "We're going to win this time."

Gray said the key to his team's success here in '81 has been the overall balance of his team. "We also have a group of players who are not afraid of sacrificing what it takes to win. They have a lot of desire and they haven't quit all season long," the coach said.

Delta has a very potent one-two punch in the backfield. Jay Dimaggio of New Orleans and fullback Andrew McGary of Greenville are averaging close to five yards per carry. Scott Neamour, the big receiver as he has hauled in 18 passes for 252 yards.

BKW sponsoring local bouts

Chuck Karl, David Bennett win in Silver Gloves event

By EDGAR PEREZ

Bay-Kila-Waveland Boxing Club member Chuck Karl of Bay St. Louis and Gulfport Boxing Club representative David Bennett of Pearlington took weight class championships in a Louisiana Silver Gloves Tournament in Kenner Friday through Sunday.

The event was sponsored by the Kenner Boxing Club.

Karl won the junior division in the 65 pound class in two hard-fought battles, including a Saturday night win over Rod Courville of Lake Charles, La. Karl drew a bye Friday and came back after Saturday's victory to take Scott Parker of Waggaman, La. Sunday night.

Karl is undefeated in the current season and holds winner's trophies from two major events this year.

Bennett, 13, took the first place trophy in the 100 pound intermediate class.

His victory contributed to a first place team trophy win for the Gulfport club which came out on top of some 36 clubs in a southeastern district composed of Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama.

BKW's Timmy Varborough defeated Jason Bennett of Kings Center Boxing Club Friday night, then found himself losing to a home state opponent Saturday night.

Fighting their way to quarter finals were Douglas Hawkins, Darryl Antoine, Richard Hawkins, and Wayne Karl.

Eddie Bennett, 10, of Pearlington, also representing the Gulfport club, was runner-up in the 60 pound junior class.

Unable to make his weight class was Charles Gillin of BKW.

The B-K-W Boxing Club is sponsoring its first home town match Saturday, Nov. 23 at the Disabled American Veterans Hall in Bay St. Louis at 7 p.m.

A five-foot trophy will be awarded to the best fighter of the night on a 24-hour USA American Boxing Federation sanctioned card.

Boxing clubs from South Lafourche, La., Mobile, Ala., and other areas are expected to participate. The event will be broadcast on radio and television.

Fishery Management Council supports closed shrimp seasons

Dr. Thomas R. Paulko, associate professor in the Department of Criminal Justice at the University of Southern Mississippi, recently attended a meeting of the Scientific and Statistical Committee of Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council in Tampa, Fla., Jan. 29-30, 1979.

According to Paulko, the purpose of the meeting was to discuss management plans for the Gulf of Mexico's multimillion dollar shrimp industry. The meeting was held in the Gulf of Mexico, and the purpose of the meeting was to discuss management plans for the Gulf of Mexico's multimillion dollar shrimp industry.

The meeting was held in the Gulf of Mexico, and the purpose of the meeting was to discuss management plans for the Gulf of Mexico's multimillion dollar shrimp industry.

A major concern of the council is the protection of shrinking interests in each state that is bordered by the Gulf of Mexico.

The Fishery Conservation and Management Act extended U.S. fishing waters from three to 200 miles from the coast because of the increasing efforts of foreign fishing interests off U.S. coasts.

"The management plans for the various fishing industries in the eight regions are absolutely essential for the protection of U.S. economic and recreational interests and the future of the stocks," said canning industry is a major commercial interest in Louisiana—Texas has no such industry. Texas shrimpers prefer the larger shrimp for their fresh-frozen markets. The greatest concern this year was that the longer closed season would result in Texas shrimpers "raiding" Louisiana shrimpers.

"Unless the Council institutes such measures, there is the possibility of overharvesting the stock. Therefore, a closed season is in the best economic interests of fishermen and also protects the supply."

Football Contest winners reported

Three contestants picked ten of 12 winners in the final week of the Sea Coast Echo's annual Football Contest.

Frank Geraci Sr. of Waveland was named first place winner.

He picked North Carolina over Clemson and Atlanta over New Orleans, and was closest to the 25 point total in the Hancock North Central—with a 33-point tie breaker estimate.

In second place, also with ten winners, is A. J. Geoffrey of Bay St. Louis who erroneously picked Long Beach and Los Angeles. Geoffrey's tie breaker guess was the Dodgers.

Disqualified as a money winner was Michele Heitzman of Bay St. Louis who also to make a tie breaker estimate. She missed on the Long Beach and Atlanta games.

OF
LIVING MEMORIES

Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all
The voice is mute and stilled

What loved us well and true
 Ah, Father, was the trial to Part
 From one as good as you
 You are not forgotten loved
 And all will miss you

By BRENT MACEY
The Hancock County Art Association recently conducted its first annual art exhibit at the American Legion Post 138 in Bay St. Louis.

expressing their appreciation for his time and effort in the community. Some 187 people attended the exhibit. And of those members, many seemed surprised at the caliber of work turned out by the art association.

The Sea Coast Echo features THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1961-1C

Some 170 oil paintings by 35 members of the association were on display for the public. All the artists who exhibited their work have received instruction from Carl Baldenhofer, a Retired Senior Volunteer Program instructor, who teaches both the senior citizens and members of the general public regardless of whether they are members of the art association.

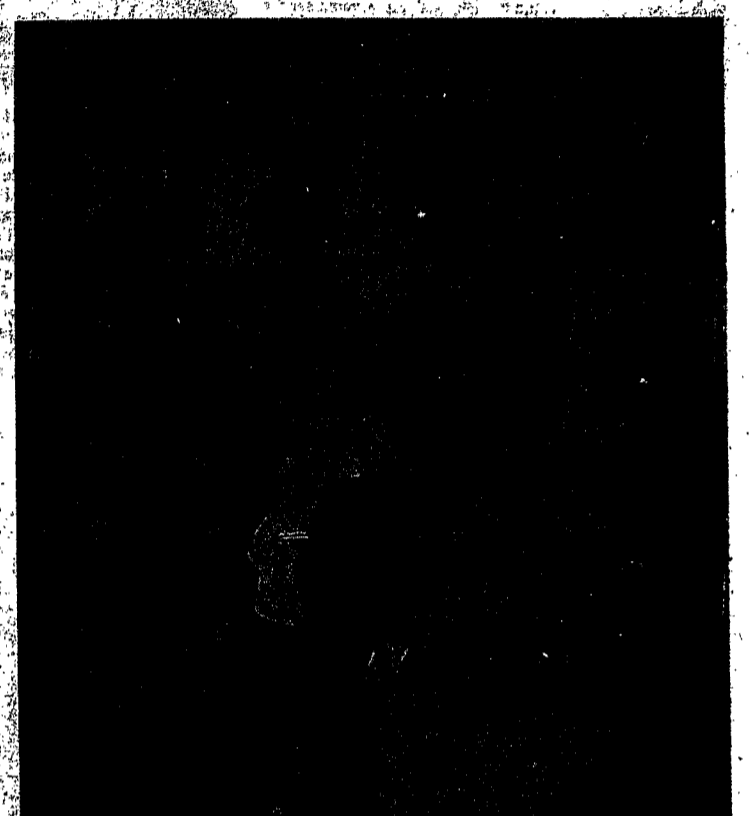

On Monday and Wednesday, Baldenhofer instructs oil painting at the Senior Citizen Center in Bay St. Louis. And on Saturday, he offers painting classes in the Cultural Center on Coleman Avenue from 9 to 12 p.m. for anyone interested in learning.

Price to the public is $3 per class, and Baldenhofer supplies the necessary equipment.

He noted only those artists who paid the $1 a year membership fee to become a member of the art association were allowed to display their work at the exhibit.

He stated this is the first show we have had for the members. We wanted to show what the people of Hancock County can do.

than 10 years, he said. And I think they are the best too," he added.

In the past four years since Baldenhofer began instructing, some 75 students have attended his classes.

Ages of the students ranged from eight to eighty, he said. Members of the association used the exhibit as an opportunity to present Baldenhofer with a plaque

Future planning is formula for success

By S. GRADY THIGPEN

Future, meaning, looking ahead, is preached in all parts of the Bible and is made the basis of all human conduct. What a man sows, that shall he also reap is made emphatic in every way.

Another rule is to be a tree inclined, is nothing but looking to the future. "Be ye ready," is looking ahead. The untrimmed lamp made trouble in no small degree; this was the penalty for not looking ahead.

things of life, you've got to plan for them and build for the future. If you want figs to eat, can or preserve, you must first plant the fig tree, then care for them and bring them into bearing.

In the parable of the talents we find this statement, "To him that hath shall be given, and from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath."

And the man that getteth understanding. For the gaining of it is better than the gaining of silver. And the profit thereof than fine gold.

She is more precious than rubies. And none of the things thou canst desire are to be compared with her. Length of days is in her right hand.

You must first know the state of his condition and health. Not the humble and the proud, for in life's busy span who puts on vain airs is not counted a man.

No, the two kinds of people on earth I mean. Are the people who lift and the people who lean? Wherever you go, you will find the world's masses are ever divided in just these two classes.

And strangely enough you will find too, I mean. There is only one lifer-twenty who lean.

In which class are you? Are you eating the seed of overtaxed lifers who fall down the road? Or are you a leaner, who is better by planning ahead and doing the things now that you can do now, by putting all your land into production, by planting the trees and other trees, by developing good pastures, and above all, with all thy getting, get understanding.

It's Up To You. You are the fellow who has to decide. Whether you'll do it or not, you are the fellow who makes up your mind. Whether you'll do better or not, you are the fellow who makes up your mind. Whether you'll do better or not, you are the fellow who makes up your mind.

Whether you'll do better or not, you are the fellow who makes up your mind. Whether you'll do better or not, you are the fellow who makes up your mind.

Whether you'll do better or not, you are the fellow who makes up your mind. Whether you'll do better or not, you are the fellow who makes up your mind.

Whether you'll do better or not, you are the fellow who makes up your mind. Whether you'll do better or not, you are the fellow who makes up your mind.

Waveland librarian exhibits compassion

By RICHARD M. ANDERSON
Some 34 years ago, Mildred Means, a Waveland librarian, has been unusual to find a lady like Mildred Means behind the desk at the town library.

A person who took the time to care was more the order of the day, but the world was smaller and life was slower. But a lot of things have changed, which is why it is such a joy to find someone who hasn't.

Mildred's time away from the library is anything but idle. She plays tournament bridge, is full-time organist for St. Clare and St. Henry Catholic Churches; and, until she had eye surgery a year ago, she was a volunteer for Senior Citizens of Hancock County.

With 26 nieces and nephews, her services as a baby-sitter are always at a premium. Needless to say, she is as well loved by her own family as she is by the children who's pictures line the door frames and shelves of the library.

Rare indeed is the library lady who receives letters and cards year-round from kids and parents who summer in Waveland. And fortunate are the rest of us who have access to her large and tender heart in every season.

It's almost everyone who comes through the door of the library as an individual, someone she wants to get to know. It isn't long before you are feeling the same way about her. For some, that liberality is genuine; you can trust her to keep a confidence, and if she doesn't have an answer, she'll know who does.

Ole Miss names five alums to Hall of Fame

Five nationally-known alumni of the University of Mississippi have been added to the Ole Miss Alumni Hall of Fame.

Recipients of Distinguished Alumnus Awards for 1961 are Meredith Corporation vice president James Anny, New York University president John Brademas, television star and former Miss America Mary Ann Mobley, Collins nationally renowned trial lawyer Frank E. Everett Jr. and former Rebel football team physician Claude E. Zell.

James Anny, elected to the University's student Hall of Fame as an undergraduate, serves Meredith Corporation's Publishing Group as vice president and general manager of magazine publishing.

He oversees the management and direction of the company's magazine products and participates in the development of new publications.

Before his latest appointment, Anny served as vice president and editor-in-chief of magazine and book products at Meredith.

He is a member of the advisory boards for the Ole Miss Journalism department and Center for the Study of Southern Culture, and has served as chairman of the board of directors and as president of the Billie Jean Foundation of America.

He also served on the national advisory committee for the White House Conference on Families.

Anny was editor of "The Mississippian" in 1945 and a member of Kappa Sigma social fraternity and Omicron Delta Kappa honor society.

John Brademas, a nationally known sports writer, has served the team in Sigma Chi and Gamma Phi Beta fraternities.

award and the Chicago Tribune award for military achievement.

John Brademas served in the U.S. House of Representatives as Indiana representative from 1963-67. He was a member of the Education and Labor Committee, the House Administration Committee and the Joint Committee on the Library of Congress and was re-elected to the House in 1967.

A magna cum laude graduate of Harvard University, Brademas attended Ole Miss during the 1945-46 academic year.

At Harvard he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa; from 1964-65 he studied as a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University in England, receiving the doctor of philosophy in social studies degree in 1964.

For his continuing support of education and the arts, Brademas has received the George Foster Peabody Award for Outstanding Contribution to Music in America; the annual Award for Distinguished Service to the Arts of the American Academy and Institute of Arts and Letters; and the Citation for Significant Contribution to Society from Sigma Chi in America.

Mary Ann Mobley Collins attended Ole Miss from 1939-41 and won the Miss America crown in 1941. She has hosted the annual Miss America pageant since 1957 and has starred in many television dramatic and comedy roles and special, and is often called upon to guest-host and host talk shows.

Mrs. Mobley Collins was named Miss 1967 National College Football Council and the 1967 National College Football Council.

She was named Miss 1967 National College Football Council and the 1967 National College Football Council.

LIFE-A-THON—Nine hours of entertainment, a talent show, food and beverages, a country store, sweet shoppe and a dance are among activities planned at an Epistol Sigma Alpha Life-A-THON Saturday to raise funds for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Sponsored by seven local ESA chapters, the program will be at the Elmer Hilton Grand Casino. Sporting celebrity items above are, left to right: Randy Thompson and Joe Harris of WYML radio, auctioneers; Len Davis of Pascagoula, Mississippi ESA Council St. Jude coordinator; and Twigg Branch of Pascagoula, snapper. Entertainment begins at 4 p.m. and lasts until 1 a.m. Headline entertainer, Justin Wilson performs at 8:30 p.m., followed by music for dancing. Tickets are $100 adults, $5 for students and may be obtained from ESA members or at the door. Admit tickets include the dance.

debuted on Broadway as the lead opposite Bert Convy in "Nowhere to Go But Up." Other stage productions followed and her career in motion pictures began with "Girl Happy" opposite Elvis Presley.

Her most recent appearance includes serving as co-hostess for a new television series, "Wedding Day," starring the popular Disney production, "The Sound of Music."

Lark Valley, which also featured her husband, Gary Collins, and joining Burt Reynolds for a cameo appearance in "Smoky and the Bandit II." She also serves as the advertising spokeswoman for National Gypsum.

Frank Everett, a 1932 graduate of Ole Miss, is currently of counsel with the firm of Brunini, Grantham, Grover and Hewes in Jackson. He received the law degree in the School of Law in 1934 and began legal practice in Greenwood with the firm of Gardner and Dorman.

Everett is a fellow in the American College of Trial Lawyers, an association that invites no more than one percent of the lawyers of a state.

He is a member of the Mississippi and American Bar Associations and the American Judicature Society, and past commissioner of the State Bar.

He has been admitted to practice in state and federal courts in U.S. Courts of Appeals in Ninth Circuit, United States Court of Claims and Supreme Court of the United States.

He was recognized in 1975 by the Memphis Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame for his significant contributions to amateur football. He also was honored in 1977 by the Memphis Chapter of the Ole Miss Rebel Football Out-standing alumni.

At the University, Everett served as president of the Associated Student Body, was elected Colonel Rebel and named to the Hall of Fame.

He was also a member of Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity and Phi Delta Theta social fraternity.

He is a past president of the Ole Miss Alumni Association and was also an organizer and president of the Ole Miss Economic Council, a director of the United States Economic Council.

Claude Ferrell Varner, whose career as a physician has spanned more than five decades, has combined the skills of his profession with his love of sports. A 1928 graduate of Ole Miss, he began traveling with the Ole Miss football team as physician in 1949.

While at the University, Varner played on the tennis team, and during his last year lettered in that sport.

He attended the University of Tennessee Medical School, graduating in 1930.

Varner began the general practice of surgery and medicine in Memphis in 1934, after completing a surgery residency at Baptist Hospital in Memphis. He was admitted to the American College of Surgeons in 1942.

He was recognized in 1975 by the Memphis Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame for his significant contributions to amateur football. He also was honored in 1977 by the Memphis Chapter of the Ole Miss Rebel Football Out-standing alumni.

Jeff Davis offering pilot EMT program

Applications are being accepted for a state-approved emergency medical technician (EMT) paramedic program offered at Gulf Coast Junior College's Jefferson Davis Campus, according to GJC President J. J. Hayden.

The one-year instruction will entail 30 semester credit hours, covering practical theory, clinical and field experience. In other business the group elected Dr. Carol Ann Smith, chairperson of the program's advisory committee.

Smith is director of nursing at Gulfport college, emergency at the Biloxi Regional Medical Center, and representatives from area hospitals and the state Board of Health.

Other officers are vice chairperson Dr. David Sawyer, assistant medical director of the emergency room at Memorial Hospital at Biloxi.

Hayden said classes are scheduled to begin in January with a 25-student limit.

Deadline for applications is Dec. 1.

The president added that inquiries should be directed to Mrs. Vela Griffith, vocational-technical counselor at the Jefferson Davis Campus.

Admissions requirements include:

—18 years old at beginning of program

—high school graduate or equivalent

—good physical health as shown by physician's examination —successful completion of a 12-hour Department of Transportation's EMT and ambulance course or approved equivalent

—one year experience as EMT within the last three years

—acceptable recommendations from ambulance administrators and physicians who have directed applicant's performance

The program, first ever offered by a Mississippi college or university, is financed with $40,000 appropriated to GJC from Governor's Highway Safety Program through the state Department of Transportation.

Hayden estimated total expenditure for class equipment and supplies is about $25,000.

Hayden noted that students successfully completing the program will receive certificates.

Those who are in the program and also enroll for general academic courses will be eligible for an associate in applied science degree, he said.

Classes will be based at the Gulfport-Biloxi campus. GJC will supervise instruction, hiring of personnel and will coordinate with representatives within the project.

Curriculum follows nationally standardized format developed by the Department of Transportation.

Moderate to heavy smoking increases the risk of miscarriage, stillbirths and complications of pregnancy.

The vast majority of smokers and nonsmokers believe that doctors, factory and other health professionals should set a good example by not smoking. More than 70 percent of smokers who go through a pack or more a day claim they would quit if urged by their physician to do so.

Higher education is major factor in nation's economy

How important is higher education to the nation's economy? At a time when demographers and economists are predicting disaster for our cities and universities in the 1990s, we should take a hard look at the answer to that question.

Consider these facts: Higher education will spend close to $60 billion in 1982, according to the American Council on Education. In 1979-80 it spent $60 billion.

However, that figure does not include the value of the buildings and other capital investments used in the production of educational services—unlike the figures used for industry.

Fifty billion dollars, then, is a conservative estimate of the relative size of the higher education sector in 1979-80.

In 1977, the last year for which comparative figures are available, higher education's contribution to the Gross National Product was about $40 billion—larger than that of the automobile industry ($36 billion) and the petroleum refining industry ($18 billion), and almost as much as agriculture ($43.3 billion).

Few people are aware that higher education is important to our economy. Policy makers who study the GNP discover that the Department of Commerce lists only the private higher education slice of the educational pie under "Educational Services."

Yet higher education, when both private and public institutions are considered together, is among the biggest segments of the entire non-profit sector.

You may ask: How can we compare education and industry when the latter pays corporate and real estate taxes, and the former benefits from a special tax-exempt status?

This is an important difference. But remember: Higher education is not exempt from paying employment taxes.

And because higher education is more labor-intensive than many other industries, it may pay more in employment taxes than some industries pay in employment and income taxes combined.

The economic policies of the new administration provide tax incentives for investment on the part of private industries, but these incentives do not apply to colleges or universities.

Private industries also receive tax incentives for investment on the part of private industries, but these incentives do not apply to colleges or universities.

Private industries also receive tax incentives that allow them to renovate energy-wasting facilities. Universities, on the other hand, often cannot afford insulation for lecture halls with utility bills that seem to double annually, and they get no government incentives to make those expenditures.

Further, the millions of people who work in higher education pay federal, state and local taxes. Many tax payors depend for their livelihood on the business of higher education.

Faculty members make up almost 600,000 of the nearly 1.3 million people employed in higher education. Managerial and administrative personnel—accountants as well as deans, typists as well as presidents—make up another 280,000.

Hospital and sanitation workers, cooks, ground-keepers, and other non-professional staff comprise another 291,000 of the workers paid by colleges and universities.

In many communities, a college or university is the largest single employer and accounts for the largest share of retail sales in the market area.

Higher education depends more heavily on labor than do many other industries, but the wages and salaries it pays are low compared with equivalent positions in industry and government.

In addition, faculty salaries have lost significantly more ground to inflation than those of other professionals. In the recent two years of double-digit inflation, base salaries for faculty members have declined in buying power by 13 percent.

Universities have become important centers of professional education and technical training. Colleges and universities, as well as training our scientists and engineers, also employ most of these professionals with doctoral degrees.

Scholars at universities conduct more than 50 percent of the basic research essential to many industries and 16 percent of the applied research carried out in the United States.

Although industries themselves conduct most of their own applied research, they conduct only 16 percent of the basic research on which that applied research depends. Industries rely on higher education to do much of the rest.

Higher education touches almost everyone's lives. As regularly as we go to the supermarket or visit grandmother, we visit our local campus for "leisure" discussion groups or courses.

Since higher education has broadened student access through its admission of students of all ages and economic backgrounds, it depends on colleges and universities to expand their knowledge and improve their skills.

In 1960-61, over 12 million people enrolled in college as part-time or full-time students. Another 26 million people participated in non-credit continuing education, off-campus extension, or community service programs.

Higher education works at near full capacity. Considering the total number of students that could be served with existing faculty and facilities, colleges have a utilization rate of over 90 percent. This compares favorably with the 75 percent utilization rate now found in industry.

In addition, university medical centers train our physicians, dentists, nurses and other health professionals, conduct important medical research, and offer high-quality, low-cost health services to their communities.

One indication of higher education's importance to society is that the demand for it is still strong, in spite of the reduced birth rates of the 1960s.

Today, as our nation considers ways to strengthen its economy, we must not forget how important higher education is to the health of the economy.

As higher education flourishes or flounders, so will its many economic contributions. Increase or decrease. And we haven't even mentioned what higher education adds to the country's intellectual and spiritual life—contributions that can't be counted, but that enrich our lives nonetheless.

(Editor's note: The preceding article is based on 1981 The National Investment in Higher Education, a report prepared by Association Council for Policy Analysis and Research.)

Doing MORE...With LESS! THE MOTHER EARTH NEWS

GREAT-GRANDDAD'S MOUSETRAP

Great-Granddad seldom wasted money on store-bought mousetraps. Instead, he controlled the little rodents that plagued his pantry with a device consisting of a bucket half full of water, a board a foot or two long, a string, and a bait. You can too. Here's how you know his trick.

Cover the partly filled pail with brown paper cut from a large grocery sack, held taut and in place with string. Then set the pail in a corner of the kitchen, room, kitchen, pantry, barn, or wherever the unwanted guests are gathering.

Use a piece of scrap lumber to make a ramp from the floor to the top of the bucket and put a small mound of bread, bacon, walnut meats, or some other treat in the center of the pail's paper top. It's also a good idea to suspend an attractive chunk of bait directly over the rest of the mouse food.

Let the critter gorge on this bait for two or three nights (replace the bait as necessary) until a whole tribe gets in the habit of freeloading on top of the bucket. Then use a razor blade or very sharp knife to cut a full slit in the center of the pail's cover, directly beneath the hanging bait, thereby creating a trap that automatically resets itself.

A fresh chunk of bait, set the following morning, should lure another mouse. (Remember: mouse in the trap, bait hanging over the rest of the mouse food.)

When you have caught your mouse, trap it by holding it by the tail and dropping it into the bucket. Then use a razor blade or very sharp knife to cut a full slit in the center of the pail's cover, directly beneath the hanging bait, thereby creating a trap that automatically resets itself.

Gullview PTC baby contest rescheduled

A baby contest sponsored by the Gullview Parents Teacher Club originally set for Sunday has been rescheduled to Dec. 6 at 4 p.m. in the school gymnasium, according to Claude Singleton, club president.

Deadline for entries has been extended to Nov. 30.

The contest is divided into three groups: ages newborn to 11 mo., 12 mo. to two years; three to five years for both boys and girls.

Persons interested in entering a child can call Ms. Singleton at 467-7541 or Claudia Chismon at 467-5315.

The PTC president said, "The baby contest is our big event of the year. Funds made from the contest will be used for the air conditioning of the classrooms at Gullview."

Ms. Singleton said the PTC now has enough funds for the winter and are now working towards enough for the purchase of the air conditioners.
